RANDOM REFLECTIONS.

No sooner is our period of festivity over than the Chinese begin. Already the feeling that precedes the advent of China New Year has made itself apparent not only among the business class but among the domestic as well, and Europeans are trying to view with amuse the prospective dislocation of their household arrangements.

Now is the time when servants are prone to give way to temptation, and it behooves Europeans to remember the portion of a certain prayer which expresses the wish not to be led into temptation. In other words, they should keep a close eye on their valuables, no matter how trusted the servants may have proved in the past. We all know that it is temptation which frequently makes the thief.

It does seem something of a reflection on the unofficial members of the Legislative Council that they were not alive to the opportunity given to them a fortnight before to say nice things about the departing Colonial Secretary when the Governor brought the subject to their notice and invited them to propose a resolution on the subject that they thought fit. Looks as if their minds worked rather leisurely. Or is it that they enjoy these little excursions up to the august chamber?

I wonder if the Director of Public Works really meant what he said when in reply to the hon. Mr. Osborne he mentioned that "unfortunately there has been discovered some defect in the construction of the roof." Personally, I should think it was fortunate that the discovery was made.

The training operations at the Racecourse on Saturday morning were enlivened by an event that created considerable interest and provided no little amusement. To determine their worth or otherwise for racing purposes, ten ponies took part in the "Ketter" Stakes, distance One Round. From a straggling start the race proved that four "rotters" were much better than the others, and Mr. Kilman's mount beat the three next best by a couple of lengths, with the remainder strung out.

I hope I won't be accused of serving up "mild kail hat again" by referring to the Clock Tower or the new Post Office. It is understood that the project to erect a clock has been abandoned, but the tower which was to house it has been built. Probably our authorities are in the hope that some day the Colony may be financially able to furnish the necessary timepiece, and for that purpose they have not altered the construction of that part of the building. But we have several gentlemen in our midst who, I am sure, will welcome an opportunity of bestowing some benefaction upon the place where Fortune has been kind to them. One at a time, please!

A correspondent sends me a communication which he heads "Why, oh, Why?" He tells of a European constable who was hailed the other day by a man in the street who explained to him that he had spent some time trying to find a certain firm and then added, "Why can't these coolies speak English? I told this man to take me to—". We have been going there for hours and haven't got there yet. The policeman was so astonished that he could only murmur, "Very strange, isn't it?" This stranger's attitude is unfortunately that of too many Britons. They want everybody else to learn their language. They don't want to be bothered themselves acquiring a knowledge of any other tongue. No wonder Mark Twain said the British were mentioned in the Bible, and then quoted, "Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth."

The theory that a barmaid is not a barmaid when she is a publican's wife or daughter represents a social and economic difference which the law is not prepared to recognise in Hongkong. The Government definition of the term which has been obtained by the Daily Press is very clear and leaves little room for doubt as to intentions of the Government in the matter, but isn't it obvious that the proverbial coach and four may be driven through that Ordinance? The intention, if I take it, is to get rid of female attractions; but to prohibit barmaids—that is, "women who serve liquor in a public-house"—does not get rid of the women. If I may speak from casual observation while passing up or down Queen's Road, I should say that more women are employed as doormat attractions than as barmaids.

The Government of Hongkong is taking time by the forelock in securing itself against the espionage of balloons and aviators which might very well prove a future menace to its safety. A Bill to control such ascents has been introduced into the Legislative Council.

Ochanee! Sir Henry and Lady May leave us on Saturday, when they sail for their new home in the sunny south. How much we shall miss them is indicated by the number of farewells they have already said and will say this week before Saturday. They are certain of a good send-off on Saturday.

Tonkin ought to be able to boast a Caledonian Society soon. The chief engineer for the new pulp and paper company is a Scot and the six European employees in charge of the various departments are also from the same air. The report of their proceedings at a St. Andrew's dinner ought to look particularly unattractive in French.

RODOLPH RANDOM.

We learn that the Delhi, which is bringing the next English mail, has been fitted with wireless telegraph apparatus, and that the other P. and O. steamers of this class are to be similarly equipped.

OTHER CRICKET.

H.K.C.C. v. GARRISON.

These teams met on the ground of the Hongkong Cricket Club on Saturday afternoon, and the match ended in a draw. The Garrison went to the wickets first and compiled a total of 222 runs. Hongkong's total stood at 183 runs for eight wickets when stumps were drawn. For the Garrison Houghton made the handsome score of 81 and Bagnall 48. Turner knocked up 65 of the Club's total, and E. Hancock contributed another 23. For the Club the Rev. Payne took six wickets for 71 runs and Bird took four for 80. Three of the Club wickets fell to Taverner for 20 runs, three to Bagnall for 58 and two to Houghton for 28. Scores and analyses follow:—

LEAGUE FOOTBALL.

KOWLOON v. R.G.A.

This, the last of the League matches, was played on Saturday afternoon at Kowloon. The home team could only muster ten men, but they made a good showing, and though they were two goals down within the last quarter of an hour they asserted themselves so vigorously that they equalised before the call of time, and the match ended in a draw.

The following is the table up to date.

WATER POLICE SMOKING CONCERT.

The members of the Hongkong Police, who have nothing to learn in the school of hospitality, were surrounded by many friends on Saturday night on the occasion of their annual smoking concert, held at the Water Police Station. The concert and the hospitality were heartily appreciated by all present, and the committee and Inspector Langley are deserving of credit for the adequate arrangements made. Command. er Beckwith, who presided, in a breezy speech said that those concerts had been established for about ten years and they were heartily enjoyed by the residents of Kowloon and Hongkong. He asked the guests to put away any natural timidity they might experience in finding themselves surrounded by police, and not to be afraid to make things go. The programme was as attractive as it was lengthy. Mr. White was in good voice and had to respond to several encores. Mr. West was very amusing in his efforts. Mr. A. E. Allan proved himself a great favourite, and not the least important was the United Service concert party. Mr. P. P. J. Wedehouse gave a song, Dr. Hartley contributed a recitation, and the others who took part in the entertainment were Messrs. Skrimshire, Peel, David, Lashbrook, Harper, Maxwell, Short, Titmas, Summerscales, Reynolds Day, Crews and Beal.

CONCERT ACADEMIE AT ST. PATRICK'S CLUB.

One of those high-class concerts which lovers of music in Hongkong seldom have the pleasure of attending was held in St. Patrick's Club on Saturday night. It was promoted in aid of the orphans of the St. Lewis Industrial School at West Point, an institution which, in a quiet and unostentatious manner, is doing a vast amount of good in giving the little waifs and strays sheltered within its walls a start in life. Unfortunately, the attendance was not large, but those who were present, besides lending a helping hand to the orphan, enjoyed an excellent programme of music and song. By kind permission of Captain and Officers, the Orchestra of S. M. S. Kaiser Franz Joseph I. was in attendance, and under the direction of Herr Rudolf Cepelak acquitted itself admirably. It goes without saying that each and every item was lustily encored, and that the National Anthem was played all too soon. The vocalists were Mrs. J. H. N. Mody and Mrs. A. J. Lamb. The songs of both ladies were sweetly sung, and that they were appreciated by their hearers was evident from the insistent demands for encores. The programme was as follows:—

PART I.
Fuelt	"Kinies"	Concert March
Wallace	"Waritana"	Overture
Luzzi	"Ave aria"	Mrs. J. H. N. Mody
Fall	"Die ge-chiedene Frau"	W. L. Kerr
Edward German	"Roses in June"	Mrs. A. J. Lamb
Puccini	"Madame Butterfly"	Fantasia
PART II.
Mydleton	"The Phantom Brigade"	Quartet
Song	"In you d a eyes"	Mrs. J. H. N. Mody
Konak	"Wachen, Volksliedchen"	Quartet
Potto	"Vedstole"	Fantasia
Russell Phillips	"A Southern Lullaby"	Mrs. A. J. Lamb
Kees	"Die Ooster-rech-ungari che Monarchie"	to Li-d and Taz

SCHOOL PRIZE DISTRIBUTIONS.

DIOCESAN SCHOOL AND ORPHANAGE.

Lieut.-Colonel Sir Joseph Fayer presided at the annual prize distribution of the Diocesan School on Saturday. There was a large number of parents and friends of the boys in attendance, and Colonel Fayer had seated with him on a platform in the school room in which the ceremony took place his Lordship the Bishop of Victoria, the Rev. F. T. Johnson and Mr. G. Piorey, head-master of the school.

Bishop LANDER, after an opening prayer, said he felt that this school deserved the support of the people of the Colony for several reasons. In the first place, it was an efficient school. As they would hear from the report, nineteen boys went up for the Oxford Local Examinations, and everyone of them passed, one with special honours. (Applause.) Then, the Diocesan was a cosmopolitan school. A few years ago he counted up the different nationalities represented among its scholars, and found no less than nine; and as it was possible to learn something from all the nations of the earth, he was sure the boys would learn a great deal from one another. Again, this school was charitable. There were those, unfortunately, who were left in this Colony in indigent circumstances, and ever since this school had been started it was the privilege of the management to take in certain orphans and provide them with a good education. The school was also athletic, and the report showed what wonderful success the boys had achieved in the field of sport. Likewise, it was religious, and not only trained a boy's mind and body, but believed also that he had an immortal soul and gave him a sound religious education. For these reasons he thought the school was one which deserved the support of all who desired the well-being of the boys of the Colony.

The school choir then sang "Ye Mariners of England," after which the head-master proceeded to read his annual report.

Mr. PIROY, in the course of his remarks, said:—We are thankful to say that the past year has been one of steady work and progress. The health of the Institution has been good. The staff consists of five English masters, four English mistresses, two Chinese assistants and two vernacular teachers. The enrolment rose from 347 (last year) to 362; the average attendance on the 245 school days was 260.8, which gives an average of 29 boys for each English teacher. Another trained master is now on his way from England to supply any vacancy caused by furlough. A large class room has been divided by a partition into two rooms, and the room that was formerly used as the masters' dining-room has been fitted up for a class. At Mr. Irving's suggestion strong new dual desks have been installed in two rooms. In January Mr. Arthur Vivian, a trained and experienced master, arrived from England to replace Mr. Brown, who joined Queen's College. Mrs. Arnold had four months' sick leave from March.

Mr. Yan Chung-ai came in September as vernacular teacher, vice Mr. Sit, resigned. Mrs. Foster acted as assistant mistress from March till her departure for England in October, when her place was taken by Mrs. Wreford. In November Mr. Tse San-tin replaced Mr. Sing Ping-kwan as clerk and Chinese assistant. After Miss Pearce left for England Mrs. Tuxford kindly undertook the music lessons. The rest of the staff has remained unchanged. All have worked with great esprit de corps, and my thanks are due to all (especially to Mr. Sykes, second master) for cordial co-operation at all times. At the Oxford Local Examinations 19 boys entered, five Senior, five Junior, nine Preliminary, and all passed, P. Abesser gaining a place in Honours in the Preliminary, with special distinction in Arithmetic. In June the Director of Education inspected the school, examined the classes and reported the school as "thoroughly efficient" for the seventh year in succession, and recommended us for the highest Government grant. In sport, 1910 was the most successful year the School has had. Both the football trophies competed for by Hongkong schools came here; the senior team winning theirs after a hard struggle, and the junior team being easily top in their competition. In the Annual Athletic Sports we obtained quite a large proportion of prizes, amongst them being the Half-mile Challenge Cup. A Tennis Tournament has been played and the champion's name inscribed on the handsome shield kindly presented last year by Mr. Ng Hoi-tsz. A successful bathing season was brought to a close with an enjoyable picnic at Telegraph Bay, where aquatic sports were held. About 60 per cent. of the boarders are now able to swim. Our thanks are due to the following gentlemen for kindly presenting prizes:—The Lord Bishop of Victoria, Hon. Dr. Atkinson, Hon. Mr. E. A. Howitt, Rev. F. T. Johnson, Messrs. L. Arnold, F. B. L. Bowley, Fung Wa-shun, Ho Fook, Ho Kam-tung, Ho Tung, T. Hunter, Li Fuk-tsz, Li Ping, Ng Hoi-tsz, M. J. Patel, Sin Tak-fan, Wong Kam-fuk, and Wong Po-chun.

The Rev. H. O. Spink reported on the Scripture examination that he considered the work compared favourably with that of similar schools in England. His Lordship then introduced Colonel Sir Joseph Fayer, remarking that he had joined the Board of Managers of the School. Colonel Sir JOSEPH FAYER, who was received with great applause, thanked his Lordship for the pleasure he had given him in asking him to distribute the prizes. He congratulated the whole school on the magnificent report, of which all ought to be very proud. To the head-master, the masters and the mistresses he tendered his sincerest, heartiest and sympathetic congratulations. He said sympathetic because he could realise what it meant to grind day after day and to intellectually, morally and physically feed over 300 boys. For the last three months or so he believed that the boys had been intellectually, morally and physically fed, and judging from the report he could see that their appetites had been good, and that they had absorbed all the nourishment of the food that had been given them. And now came the time for the boys to rest to digest their somewhat heavy meals, and he wished them all, from the bottom of his heart, a very happy holiday. He would strongly urge them to make the most of it; to be out of doors as much as possible, and to keep up their reputation in the football field. He had been addressing them in somewhat semi-scientific metaphor, but this was done out of compliment to the school, which was a scientific school. To those boys who had won prizes and distinctions he offered his very special congratulations. They not only should be proud of themselves, but proud to know that the whole of the school and all their masters were proud of them. To those boys who had not been successful in the examinations he would give the following advice:—"Work on and hope on, and do your best." No one could do more than that, and if they had done their honest best they could be perfectly satisfied in their own minds. They could not more all win prizes than they could come in first, second or third in the half-mile race; but what they could do in the half-mile race was to plod on, stick to it and finish. That was the main thing "finish." Even if they came in last it did not matter, because they could look back and find that after all the course was not so very long nor so very severe, and next time they would go in with more confidence.

"Work on! Hope on!
Self-help is noble schooling.
You do your best, and leave the rest
To God Almighty's ruling."

The speaker asked the boys to remember the little French words esprit de corps used by the head-master in his report. They all knew what they meant, and without them no nation, no army, no battleship or cruiser, no community, no business firm, no school could be the real thing. The boys should have the feeling that they would knock down anybody who said anything against their school, and what was more, he would not think anything of a boy who did not. Sir Joseph likened every individual member of the school to the links of a chain. At one end was the last joined boy, and at the other end the head-master. The strength of that chain, as they knew, was dependent on the weakest link. Therefore, if there was any disloyalty there was a weakness, which threatened the strength of the whole chain, which might be broken. But he knew there was nothing of the kind in the Diocesan School. Not only in school did they want that feeling of esprit de corps, but in after life. The chain then was never broken, but the links were separated as the boys left the school. He asked them to remember the old couplet,

"We honour still, yet, the school we know,
The best of boys."

The speaker concluded by saying that the pleasure of giving away the prizes was a real joy, but the making of a speech was a real torture to him. Colonel Fayer then distributed the prizes, and each boy carried off his trophy amid the warm applause of his schoolmates. Besides the class and special prizes the Ho Kom Tong Scholarship was presented to T. Rowan, and Oxford Local certificates

IS LAZINESS A DISEASE?

AN EASY METHOD OF OVERCOMING LAZITUDE.

Sir Joseph Fayer, in his book, "The Preservation of Life in India," points out that the "exposure to the direct solar heat or to a high temperature in the shade may induce heat exhaustion, ardent fever, and other evils of a more insidious character, by impairing the nervous system, increasing irritability, depressing vital energy, and affecting the internal organs, especially the liver."

Learning, out of consideration the serious conditions which are sufficient to prevent the sufferer attending to his duties, we are, nevertheless, brought sharply up when we consider the importance of depressed vital energy which manifests itself in a feeling of languor and reluctance to undertake anything involving either mental or physical activity.

"Laziness" is the epithet which those who are highly endowed with vitality invariably apply to those who exhibit the symptoms of the enervated and overmastering disinclination to exertion. Laziness, however, is the one thing they are not. How far the condition is due to a draining away of the phosphorus which, as Professor Tunncliffe, of King's College, London, has pointed out, "it is almost certain has an essential importance for the life of the cell and for the bio-chemical processes going on in it" has not been accurately determined. That there is reason for supposing that it is due to this cause is proved by the fact that people who are languid and incapable of much exertion derive benefit from taking salts of phosphorus, in the same way as do sufferers from conditions in which the phosphorus salts are nearly always deficient in the body.

GREAT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

For lack of energy, which involves physical debility, "the best and most readily assimilable food is a combination of casein with glycerophosphates," as Dr. D. B. Jones has written in a paper, an abstract of which was published in the "Indian Medical Gazette" some little time ago. For some years past he has obtained this combination in Santogen, which, as most people now know, is a chemical combination of the pure casein or body-building element of milk with glycerophosphates of sodium. The phosphorus in this wonderfully invigorating and revitalizing preparation is in exactly the same form as that in which it is found in the nervous system. It is, therefore, easily assimilated, and affects a rapid improvement in the general condition. Moreover, as that distinguished physician, Sir William Gowers, has pointed out, phosphorus notably increases the proportion of the red cells in the blood.

It must be clearly understood that the phosphorus needed in these cases of lassitude and lack of energy and best supplied in the form of Santogen must be regarded as a food, not as a medicine, since it supplies an element which is notably deficient in the body.

When Santogen is taken, the sufferer is rapidly restored to normal vigour and vitality. He is soon able to resume his duties with alacrity, and to perform them without fatigue.

SIR GILBERT PARKES'S ADVICE.

This restoration of energy by means of Santogen has been attested by many thousands of people, both in the tropics and in England. [This striking statement on the subject is made by Sir Gilbert Parker, M.P.: "I have used Santogen at intervals since last autumn with extraordinary benefit. It is, to my mind, a true food tonic, feeding the nerves, increasing the energy, and giving fresh vigour to the overworked body and mind."

His accurate definition of Santogen's power to increase the energy and give fresh vigour to the overworked body and mind cannot fail to make a notable appeal to all residents in China who are so prone to suffer from these conditions, which are begotten by the enervating climate. By revitalising the blood and improving its quality, as well as by increasing the tone and strength of the whole nervous system and the general bodily functions, Santogen will also increase their stock of health, and make them better than they have ever felt in their life, for that is the common experience of those who take the preparation.

Santogen has the unqualified written endorsement of more than 12,000 doctors, among whom are the physicians to ten crowned heads of Europe, including Dr. Ott, who was for many years his late Majesty's physician at Maribon.

An exceedingly interesting pamphlet, "How to Keep Well in Tropical Climates," which contains further information on this subject, and on others of vital importance to all residents in China, will be sent free, on application, mentioning the "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS," to Messrs. A. S. Watson & Co., Hongkong, from whom also Santogen can be purchased. Santogen may be obtained of all Chemists and Bazaars.

The Head-master, Mr. W. DREW BRADWOOD, read his report, which stated:—It gives me much pleasure to present to you the tenth annual report of the Society's Hongkong College. I have once again to chronicle a considerable increase in the attendance over that of any previous year since the college was instituted. The highest monthly enrolment was 300, and the average daily attendance for the 221 occasions on which classes assembled was 667. The attendance throughout the year was marked by great regularity, 95 pupils having made the maximum number of attendances. To accommodate the increasing number of students the executive of the Society decided to pull down the eastern wing of the old premises and erect modern class-rooms on the same site. The work of demolition was commenced in February, and the new wing containing six rooms capable of seating over 240 pupils was completed and quietly occupied on the 5th of October. Opportunity was taken at the same time to erect new and more hygienic outbuildings. While these alterations and additions were in progress part of the play-ground under the western wing was enclosed and used as a temporary class-room, a purpose which it served admirably during the summer. This arrangement has been retained in view of the Society's intention to erect a central block of buildings and so complete the modern edifice at an early date. There have been various changes and additions to the staff. Several of the vernacular masters left and were replaced. Mr. D. Campbell joined on January 4 of last year, and at the end of August Mr. A. Hamilton, who had been a member of the college staff for over seven years, left to join the Sanying Government School. Mr. T. O. Kane, formerly acting head-master of the Society's Shanghai schools, joined in October and Mr. W. L. M. Grant, M.A., in November. The staff now consists of seven English masters, eight Chinese masters and nine vernacular masters. The number of Chinese teachers will be increased before classes are resumed in February. The usual terminal examination was held by the head-master at the close of the year. The details of the examinations are contained in the tabulated results. Six hundred and two pupils were examined, of whom 477, or 79 per cent, passed, having 60 per cent. of the maximum number of marks. In the individual subjects the percentage of passes was:—Reading, 93; dictation, 73; arithmetic, 75; writing, 96; composition, 71; colloquial, 75; geography, 65; mapping, 61; grammar, 77; hygiene, 59; algebra, 63; geometry, 68; measurement, 77; English history, 46; translation, English to Chinese, 72; Chinese to English, 67; English literature, 51. The Director of Education's inspection was held on the 19th and 20th of December, but his report has not yet been received. Hygiene continues to receive its merited share of attention. Last year we had to surrender the Shield won in 1908 to the Diocesan Boys' School, who were fifteen points ahead. This year we again competed, but the results have not yet been officially declared. Classes 1 and 2 now include the subject in their Oxford work. The brushwork class inaugurated last year and so ably taught by Mr. Troakes continues to make good progress. Examples of this work and of map-drawing are on view in one of the class-rooms of the eastern wing. Many of the pupils in higher classes make use of the books in the library for home reading, but a small select reference library for the use of masters and of students preparing for the Oxford examinations would be appreciated. Our football team suffered a severe loss in the departure of Mr. Hamilton, under whose able coaching it was formed and fostered. Other members of the staff, however, are keenly alive to the advantages of athletics, and we hope to see the team acquire itself well in the forthcoming competitions of the schools' league. As in former summers the swimming club was very popular, and many enjoyable evenings were spent on the water. Our older students took a keen interest in the first Chinese national athletic meeting at Nanking, and one of them, Kwok Shui Yan, was very successful, having won five gold medals for flat racing, besides being largely instrumental in gaining for South China the silver cup and football challenge vase. Last year I was in the happy position of being able to announce an addition to the list of our scholars, ships, in that presented by Mr. F. J. Hutton, and on this occasion I have an equal pleasure in acknowledging the gift of the Lingard Scholarship of the value of $30 by Sir Horamjee Mody. We thank the donor for his generous gift, and will endeavour to show our appreciation of his kindness by qualifying for them at the earliest possible opportunity. Our thanks are also tendered to the committee of the Blake scholarship, Mr. Lo Kom Tong, the directors of the Tung Wah Hospital, the committee of the Po Leung Kuk, and all those gentlemen who have so liberally contributed to our prize fund. (Applause.)

After the distribution of the prizes, Mr. LAU CHU PAK addressed the gathering. He said:—Mr. President, Ladies, and Gentlemen, —Not being an authority on education, I will not venture to dissect the report just read by the head-master by making any favourable or adverse comments. I will simply, for the sake of saying something, confine myself to a subject which has for some time occupied my mind, and that is the conduct of some of the Chinese school boys of the present day. The remarks I am going to make do not apply to the students of this or any particular school in the Colony or elsewhere, but are merely intended as a sort of warning against such conduct being followed by any of them. I will remember when I was a boy, my elders constantly reminded me, and the books I read and in schools then taught me, that the relation between masters and pupils is one of obedience and respect—something as it has done for time immemorial in China, amongst the five principal duties of man, most in importance to that between parents and children. But I regret to say that nowadays not a few of the school boys purposely forget or ignore this time-honoured precept and treat their masters with deplorable indifference and in some cases actual disrespect. Deeds of a rebellious, boisterous and presumptuous nature have often been experienced. I have even seen instances where they dared to demand the dismissal of the masters whom they did not like and refused to do the work set them because it did not suit their convenience to do it. This is not as it should be. It is a change for the worse even at this period of reform in China, and those in authority should nip it in the bud, as to quote the words of Confucius, a man without the observance of propriety, which practically means the different limits to a man's actions, is unfit for anything. It is said that, in most cases, this lack of respect and obedience is due to the so-called reformed teachers indulging the whims of their pupils, instead of enforcing discipline. It may be so; but, personally, I should say it is due to the fanatical idea which has recently seized a section of the Chinese population, that every man or woman is entitled to an unconditional license, or in plain words, that every man or woman is at liberty to do what he or she pleases. What a mistaken idea that is! In no civilized country on the face of the earth, not even amongst the savages, can unrestricted action be tolerated. If every man and woman, and more particularly boys in school, were allowed to have his or her own way, whenever it suits him or her, no family, society or government could exist for a single day. (Applause.) It is true that the present masters are the scholars of yesterday, but it is equally true that the present scholars will become the masters of tomorrow. If such rebellious and presumptuous conduct as has been taken place, and it has a tendency to spread, the coming generation will become a lawless and anarchical one. Obedience and respect due from pupils to masters, as kindness and sympathy from masters to pupils, must essentially form part of school discipline. I sincerely hope that the students present will bear in mind these few remarks of mine and try to be in a position to receive praise instead of being found fault with like the boys I have referred to. (Applause.)

The entertainment which followed consisted of recitations by the following:—Yang Tong Tak, "Rules of School," Kong Ki Choy, "Opening Speech," Kong Ki Choy, "Golden Keys," Li Chi Kong, "No Time like the Present," Li Chi Kong, "Your Boy," Chan Ma Tai, "Work and Play," Wu Ho, "The Boy Who Means to be a Man," Chan Yuen Fat, "What Became of a Lie," Li Shing Ip, "Among the Nuts," George Poy, "Only a Pin," Wong Yik Hum, "The Daffodils," Chan Chiu Tsing, "Life's Cricket Field," Wong Wai Hung, Speech:—"Merchant of Venice."

THE RHYMING COMPETITION.

THE AWARDS.

The General Representatives of The Nestlé and Anglo-Swiss Condensed Milk Company (Cham, Switzerland and London) have pleasure in announcing the result of the competition for the best verse eulogizing the splendid properties of "Milkmaid" Natural Sterilized Milk.

So many meritorious verses were sent in that the judges had a by no means easy task in deciding which was the best. All the verses submitted were very carefully gone through by the judges, who divided them into batches of fifty. Each batch was then examined carefully, and the best twenty were put on one side for ballot. The six verses receiving the most votes were then voted on again to decide which of them was the best. The verse sent in by Mrs. Mackay, Boston House, Queen's Road Central, received the most votes, and she has been adjudged the winner. The winning verse was very closely followed in votes by that of Mrs. F. C. Mason Hurley, Magazine Gap. The other winners of consolation prizes are:

Mr. M. Fernandez, Arsenal Street.
Mr. F. F. Lake, Army Pay Office.
Mr. F. Benson, Holloway, Hainan.
Mrs. Frances Coke, 13th Rajpoots, Kowloon.

Below we give the verses in order of merit as shown by votes of the judges. The last one was rather cleverly set to music:—

The Milk that is good is the Milk that will sell,
Because it's nutritious and pure as well;
It's the Milk that, of course, has the greatest demand,
And it's Sterilized Natural Milk, the Milk of the hour.

Milkmaid Brand is the Milk for me,
For baby, or picnic, or afternoon tea.
It always is ready and never runs out,
Sterilized Natural Milk, 'tis the Milk of the hour.

As the best Natural Milk of the "Milkmaid Brand" is so good, retaining, delicious and grand;
As meat and drink for the young and the old,
This liquid food is worth its weight in gold.

Baby cried in painful night, his parents got no rest,
The Milk he took would not keep fresh, and so
would not digest,
But now he has "Milkmaid" in his cot, his sleep is sound and parents smile, because they are using Milkmaid Brand.

Old man Smith says Milkmaid Brand
is the best, the finest, and a baby at hand;
His wife says likewise, and why, too,
Sterilized Natural Milk is the food for you.

When Doctors disagree, Good Mrs. who then shall decide?
They tried the milk of most Brands, these they despise,
They tested the Milk of the Cow, too, of pedigree,
But none came up to the test, you know, the test of the Milkmaid Brand.

Many excellent verses were sent in which, however, do not sufficiently refer to Milkmaid Sterilized Natural Milk.
An order on Wang Hing for a prize valued at $50 has been sent to Mrs. Mackay, and orders on dealers for twelve tins each have been sent to the other five names.

This first competition has been quite a sporting one, there being no stipulations calling for competitors to purchase a supply of the Milk.
Another competition will shortly be announced, the terms of which may be slightly modified.

POPULATION OF AUSTRALIA.

An advance estimate of the population of the Commonwealth of Australia places the total number of people in the six states at 4,474,000. Allowing for what may be styled a normal increase during the months which must elapse before April 1, 1911, when the ten-year census will be taken, there should be at that date a total of 4,500,000. That would represent an increase during the decade of about 725,000, or 19 per cent. Taking the nine and three-fourths years to December 31st next, the federal statisticians estimate that New South Wales will show an increase of 205,000, Victoria an increase of 127,000, West Australia of 97,000, Queensland of 94,000, South Australia of 61,000 and Tasmania of only 15,000. The official statistics and estimates follow:
